What is your attitude towards the teaching of the Fathers, especially the Greek Fathers, about Theosis? Would you accept that the end of man within the Church is this deification?

It is undeniable that many non-Christians lead a life of intense prayer. If they do not know the True God to whom do they pray?

How the Holy Spirit will take his role in a scandalized church with her disunity?

"The Church is only a living Church in so far as it is filled with the life of this primary subject, and only if its life is based on this foundation is it a real Church" (THE CHURCH - the living congregation of the living Lord Jesus Christ - Amsterdam Conference)

When you say it; does it mean that Holy Spirit will work upon the visible churches occasionally, in only that case they will be the Church, but otherwise they are not the Church at all? Then how we are able to distinguish His Action whether he is working on or not?

When the churches are failing in the sins and errors, what Holy Spirit is doing? Can't we say, the judgement on their sins is taken by Holy Spirit in His suffering and crucifixion, as the Spirit of Christ in his humiliation and self-effacement on Cross and Ascension?

In only his intercession and sacrifice, are the scandalized churches able to be the living church still?

Would you possibly admit that your theology has a philosophical presupposition? If so, which is this philosophical presupposition?

There are many of them - on one of the grounds of a material presupposition!

How to find an ecumenical way out of the tension between my response to Christ's call for unity, and my loyalty to Christ which may compel me to painfully break an existent "unity" specially in view of the eschatological interpretation of I Cor. 11:19 (as in Kittel)?

Que faut-il penser de l'interprétation que Hans Urs von Balthasar donne de votre pensée; et plus précisément: y a-t-il un arrière-fonds de spéculation platonicienne-origéniste dans la dialectique du Roemerbrief et dans la doctrine de l'élection comme elle est développée dans la Dogmatik?

La méthode correcte et bonne

Assez bref: quels & langage

Platon: non

Balthasar pense en termes d'un système comportant Platon et Origène.

ce peut être un système de compréhension christologique de la doctrine.
