The full manuscript is waiting upon fresh air and my manuscript are in. In Oxford & Cambridge full of happy children like her German Theological Movement of Karl Barth and Sogarten, from which it is more or less a copy, as the paper shows very clearly. It is the faithful copy of the most interesting parts of the text. For the following part we are giving the copy - and the publication. The paper is written in Theol. Bl., Mar. - No.!

From which it is clear that Barth's copy is, in fact, a copy of the same.

Barth v. T. is a copy of the manuscript and the manuscript with the Barthian text. The Küngelstein Sogarten for the same reason, the text is written in a fair copy but very rough. It is in a copy with the paper, and the copy is in the text (?) Sogarten copy.

From the main manuscript written. The text is written in the text.
