EDINBURGH

March 2, 1938.

My dear Professor Bart,

My warm & grateful thanks for your letter. It is to me a great joy - for which I thank you - that you are prepared to help us. I shall see to it that your article is well translated.

You have encouraged my fellow-editor & me exceedingly, not only by your promised contribution but by your implied view that our undertaking may serve an important purpose.

I have not troubled you with letters during the last year or two; but I have thought of you constantly, with the deep wish that the favor desired, which alone can bless, may be upon your endeavours.

With warm regard,

Yours sincerely

H. R. Lockitch
