Dear Professor Barth:

I recall with great pleasure the two semesters I spent at Bonn in study with you. I feel they were highly profitable semesters, especially since they introduced me to the study of your thought, which has proved a stimulating discipline for me.

I am now sending you under separate cover a copy of a dissertation on your idea of revelation which I have just completed. I must confess, however, that I do so with some hesitation, since I find myself by this time in fundamental disagreement with you. But I trust you will accept it in the spirit in which it was written and is sent. If in anything I have misunderstood you, I shall regard it a kindness to be corrected by you.

I have followed the reports of your experiences with great interest and sympathy. I regret that you were forced to leave your position at Bonn, but am glad that you did not flinch in the face of opposition, and hope you have found a pleasant place for work in Basel.

With kindest regards and best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

Peter H. Monsma
