

3, Hermitage gardens,
Edinburgh, 10.

23rd Sept., 1937.

Dear Professor Barth,

You will be sorry to learn that Jan Henderson is at present ill with pleurisy (Brustfellentzündung) though I heard to-day that he is getting better. He asked me to translate your paper for you and I have done my best in the limited time I could give to it in the press of other work. I am not certain that I have found the 'most' just in every instance but perhaps you could ask Baillie to run over it with you and polish up the phraseology. I don't know whether you mean to read the English yourself this time or whether you want some one to act as interpreter as before.

My wife and I hope to be in St. Andrews next week for the celebrations and are looking forward greatly to seeing you again. We are having as a guest at the weekend Prof. Arthur Weiser of Tübingen whom you fondly know personally. You may meet him on the train on Saturday if you came north by the Flying Scotsman. I'll be meeting him and shall keep a look-out for you.

With warmest greetings,

Yours very sincerely,
Norman W. Porteus.
